Special Hazardous Material Emergency Truck Readied

A specially designed and equipped truck has just been placed in service by the State Fire Marshal to assist in handling hazardous materials incidents in Maryland.

Funds for the vehicle were provided by the Maryland Department of Transportation's Transportation Safety Division through a $25,000 Federal highway safety grant. Officially called a hazardous materials response vehicle, this truck will be available on request to help police and fire service personnel throughout the state.

The truck contains a wide variety of special equipment that can be used in incidents involving explosives or flammable, toxic or corrosive materials. Some of the equipment includes special breathing apparatus and protective equipment such as chemical resistant suits and acid suits; various test kits and gas indicators; assorted tools and step-ladders along with explosive handling devices.

Also carried on the truck is a hazardous materials and explosives library. Communication equipment includes a radio on the fire department mutual aid high-band frequency, a police radio equipped with the eight State Police mobile frequencies and a mobile telephone.

The truck will be housed in Harford County because the northern corridor of the state has been tentatively identified as having the greatest concentration of truck and rail traffic in Maryland.

According to State Fire Marshal James C. Robertson, "Planning is now being conducted in an effort to expand our capability to provide specialized assistance in hazardous materials transportation incidents."

It is estimated that more than four billion tons of hazardous materials are transported annually in the United States. Although accidents involving such materials are infrequent, the possibility of a major emergency situation has been shown by several disasters around the nation during the past several years.

Cigarette Tax Revenue Down

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported this week that Maryland's twenty-three subdivisions and Baltimore City will share $4,061,798 of the State cigarette tax revenue collected during the first quarter of Fiscal Year 1979 (July, August, September, 1978).

"The checks being mailed to Maryland's subdivisions represent a slightly smaller total amount than the $4,190,956 which was returned to the 23 counties and Baltimore City for the first quarter of Fiscal Year 1978," Mr. Goldstein said. "The decrease reflects a slight decline in tobacco tax revenue received by the State during the first three months of the current fiscal year."

The largest check was mailed to Baltimore City ($901,339). The counties receiving the largest checks were, Prince George's, $638,153; Baltimore County, $603,762; Montgomery, $557,906 and Anne Arundel, $342,963. Garrett County received $23,859.67.

IDEAS ON CARING FOR YOUR FURNITURE

The proper care of furniture can keep it looking fresh and new, even after years of use. So to help you, I thought it would be a good idea this week to present a few tips to remember in caring for your furniture.

Be sure to pre-test polishes and cleaning materials on an inconspicuous part of the furniture before applying to more exposed surfaces.

If liquid spills on furniture, remove it by a blotting - rather than by a wiping - action.

When dusting, waxing or making minor repairs, always work with the grain of the wood. Dust with a lint-free absorbent cloth.

Don't use nail polish remover on furniture. It can soften the finish.

Dust leather, don't wax it, because waxing can seal the surface and make it hard.

Plastics should not be cleaned with a solvent. Use warm water and mild detergent. Rinse and wipe dry.

In caring for upholstered furniture, brush it weekly; and another good idea is to reverse cushions to equalize wear.

And, don't forget that for all of your furniture and decorating needs, it can pay you to visit us, so stop in.

So, please feel free to stop in and see us at your convenience. We're here to serve you.

Christmas Seal

Campaign Slated

To Begin Nov. 8

The official opening date of the 1978 Christmas Seal Campaign is November 8 and more than 50 million people across the nation are expected to receive Christmas seals in the mail. Among them are the millions of individual contributors in addition to the thousands of volunteers who help in the work of the approximately 300 Lung Associations.

Christmas Seal contributions support community action, medical and public health education and research in addition to the Lung Association's fight for good lung health and against lung disease. The support Lung Association's fight against cigarette smoking as a chief cause of emphysema and chronic bronchitis, and against air pollution.

This year's Christmas Seals are each based on a study's painting and are representative of every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam. They have been circulated in this country every year since 1907, when they were first used to fight tuberculosis. Last year the American Lung Association had a total income of $40,320,000, primarily from contributions to Christmas Seals.

The American Lung Association reports that 47 million men, women and children in the U.S. suffer from one or more chronic respiratory diseases.

The Association also reports that approximately 30,000 children under five die each year of a respiratory ailment, more than half of them during the first month of life. Total economic cost of chronic obstructive lung diseases in the U.S. is estimated at $5.7 billion annually.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and the staff of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital for their care of my mother recently. She was in the intensive care unit for four days before she died. The care which she received there, I feel, was the finest care one could have received anywhere. We were from out of State and not knowing any of the doctors or nurses, were very apprehensive. But I would like to say that the doctors, Dr. Williams, Dr. Johnson and Dr. Finkle and the nurses of the Intensive Care Unit, gave me the feeling that my mother was as important to them as she was to me. This is not something you find in many hospitals today. There are no words to express my appreciation to them for what they did. It was far above just a medical need. I shall ever be grateful and I will never forget. Thank God for a hospital staffed with people like the ones in Oakland. My father and our entire family thank you. The family of the late Catherine McKinn.

—Adv. 36-11

CARD OF THANKS
We wish in this manner to express our sincere thanks to all the relatives, friends, and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy following the loss of our loved one, Woodrow Hoff. For the food, lovely flowers, cards, prayers, and comforting words, we are truly grateful.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone of our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness, food, and well and sympathy cards, donations and help during the illness and following the death of our mother, Geraldine L. O'Haver. Our special thanks to Clinton Englander and to all the employees of Englander's Pharmacy, Garrett County Road Local 184, A.D. Noyles and the Garrett County Dept. of Social Services. A special thanks to Dr. Terrence J. Thomas, the nurses, staff and staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Stewart Funeral Home and the pallbearers. A very special thanks to Rev. Oscar Hall for his prayers and wonderful service, and to the D.A.D. for their service at the funeral home.

Maryland Hospitals Are Second In Attempts To Control Inflation

Maryland hospitals are second in the nation in the fight to control inflation of hospital costs, according to recently released statistics from the Chicago-based American Hospital Association. In 1977, Maryland hospitals had the second lowest rate of increase in hospital costs of the 50 states. Preliminary estimates indicate that the trend will continue in 1978.

Leading the nation in controlling inflation was New York State.

The 1977 statistics indicated that Maryland hospitals' expenses increased 9.37 percent compared with a nationwide average increase of 13.9 percent. This translates as a rise in expenses per patient day from $171.47 in 1976 to $187.36 in 1977.

New York's rate of increase was 4.6 percent.

Owing to the lower rate in costs in 1977, estimated savings to Marylanders were $48 million in that year alone. That amount is in excess of $100,000 savings per day. Those savings occurred despite the fact that hospitals employed more people to care for patients in 1977 than in 1976.

Sullivan, right, were selected as the nation's top two-man pistol team during a three-day competition held at the Secret Service Training Center in Beltsville in May. T.C. McDonald and Sullivan scored the best out of 400 shooters from 46 states. T.C. McDonald is assigned to the Cumberland barracks and T.C. Sullivan is from Kent Island, where he is assigned to the Automotive Safety Enforcement Division. Andrew E. dent of the Maryland Hospital Association, called the cost trend a dramatic one. "It is undoubtedly clear that the citizens of Maryland are the beneficiaries of well managed hospitals working cooperatively with the Maryland Health Services Cost Review Commission. We have more of the finest hospital managers in the nation running our institutions. We are also fortunate in having an effective and rational form of payment regulation under the Commission.

"In fact," the MHA president added, "I'd match Maryland's hospitals with those of any other state in the country for their ability to cope with the issue of rising costs.

"The credit for this progress," Davidson pointed out, "should clearly go to the trustees, medical staff and management of each of our hospitals."

In related comments concerning President Carter's Tuesday evening anti-inflation message to the nation, Davidson called the cost record in Maryland an impressive one that our state rate review com-

Tax Credit Program Has Been Extended For Another Year

For the past two years many Maryland residential property owners have benefited from the tax credit program which controls taxes levied on reassessments in excess of 15%.

The Maryland Legislature, judging the program a success, has extended it for another year so that property owners will benefit again in July, 1979, according to a release from the State Department of Assessments and Taxation.

The purpose of the 15% limit is to soften the effects of a sizable assessment increase caused by the rising market value of real property, the release said. The law grants homeowners a tax credit against county or municipal property taxes on single-family, owner-occupied dwellings if the assessment increases by more than 15%.

This method guarantees that even if the assessment increase is greater than 15%, the tax on it will stop at that point.

The owner will be entitled to such a tax credit if those conditions prevailed during the previous calendar year:

(1) No change in ownership.

(2) No change in the zoning classification resulting in an increased value.

(3) No substantial change in the use of the property.

(4) No extensive improvements.

(5) No error in the previous assessment.

Also, the owner must reside in the residence for more than six months of the year, including July 1, 1978, unless unable to do so by reason of health, the release concluded.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU SMELL GAS.

Natural gas has no odor of its own. We add one for your protection. Here's what you should do if you smell gas.

If the odor is slight, and it's near an appliance, it may simply mean a pilot light is out and needs relighting. But if there's any doubt, give us a call.

If the odor is strong, leave the building. Don't flip the light switches. Don't use any other electrical equipment. Don't light a match or candle or try to find the leak yourself. Be sure everyone is out and call us from a neighbor's phone.

If the odor is outdoors, call us immediately. Don't wait for others to do it. You can reach us anytime. If you smell gas, one of our servicemen will come right to your home and make a thorough inspection.

Natural gas is one of the safest energies you can use. And together we'll keep it that way.

Thomas B. Dabney, Jr. for State's Attorney

Dear Fellow Garrett Countians:

In the past several weeks, I have written letters to you about my feelings concerning the drug and alcohol problems, as well as the problems involving child abuse and wife abuse. I feel that these problems must be dealt with if we are to insure a fair and effective criminal justice system.

During the past several weeks, I have been asked why I was running for this office. I have three reasons which I feel are significant. The first reason is I feel that I am qualified. I am qualified because of my experience as criminal trial attorney in a variety of cases, both before a jury and the court. Having defended many people, I am very familiar and experienced with court decisions involving the individual's rights, and proper arrest procedures. I am quite familiar with search and seizure, and the admissibility of confessions.

My second reason for running is that I feel I know and understand the needs of Garrett County and its people. I have lived in Garrett County over six years. During these years, I have talked with citizens and groups all over the county. I have also spoken with the representatives of various law enforcement and other public agencies. In short, I feel I have not only a familiarity with the criminal procedures, but also a good working knowledge of the problems that need to be solved.

My final reason for running is a desire to help insure the safety and well-being of our community. I came here with my wife six years ago from Chicago. When we came here, we found people who were not afraid to go out in the evening, go off for periods of time with the doors to their homes unlocked, or to stop and help a stranger. Today, I think much of this feeling has changed. People are more fearful.

I feel that we have a criminal justice system that can be much more effective for, and protective of, our citizens. This system can be fair and at the same time effective. It can be fearful without being abusive.

As a husband and the father of two little girls, I feel even more strongly the need to work for a better criminal justice system. I feel that the Office of the State's Attorney is a position of great power and responsibility, and that with progressive leadership and direction it can be a significant tool in protecting and preserving our community and the legal system which protects it.

I would appreciate your consideration and urge you to vote on November 7, 1978.

Sincerely,
Thomas B. Dabney, Jr.
Democratic Candidate for State's Attorney

1978-Crop Corn Eligible For Reserve

Farmers with 1978-crop corn under price support loan, can place it directly in the grain reserve, Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, reported.

"This means that an eligible farmer may obtain a Commodity Credit Corporation price support loan on his 1978 crop corn and also place it in the reserve at the same time." Eligible farmers are those who participate in the 1978 Feed Grain Set-Aside Program.

Crowl said immediate entry of the crop into the reserve was authorized because the national feed grain reserve goal had not been met as of October 1.

The USDA had set a reserve goal of 670 million bushels (corn equivalent) of feed grains, including 909-879 million bushels of corn. "This includes feed grains held in the reserve as well as feed grains taken over through the Price Support Loan Program." Immediate entry of 1978-crop sorghum, oats, and barley into the reserve was not authorized.

As of September 29, the nation's farmers had placed 215,409,890 bushels of corn in the National Reserve Program. "These farmers want higher corn prices and are willing to do something to help improve those prices," Crowl said. If corn growers continue to make substantial use of the reserve, it will help increase corn prices, he added.

In addition to benefiting from higher grain prices, producers who participate in the reserve receive annual storage payments in advance of 23 cents per bushel for all grains except oats. The storage rate for oats is 19 cents per bushel.

On this day in history:

In 1864, the U. S. Post Office Department introduced the money order.

In 1918, the Hapsburg monarchy of Austria-Hungary was dissolved. Vienna became the capital of Austria and Budapest the capital of Hungary.

In 1960, two Puerto Rican nationalists tried to force their way into Blair House in Washington in an attempt to assassinate President Harry Truman.

In 1970, 148 people died when fire swept a dance hall in Saint-Laurent-Du-Pont, France.

A thought for the day: Early

Three County Teachers Attend PE Convention

Three Garrett County teachers attended the Maryland Association of Health Physical Education and Recreation Convention at Ocean City, October 19-21. Liz Hinebaugh and Judy Pula, resource room teachers at Grantsville Elementary School, and Ginny Popielek, traveling Personalized Physical Education teacher for the northern end of Garrett County, attended exhibitions, demonstrations, and conferences. The conferences they attended included infancy development, chalkboard tracking activities, making perceptual motor materials and their utilization, relaxation therapy, and complying with Public Law 94-142. Mrs. Popielek spoke about how Garrett County is complying with this public law.

Mrs. Popielek also accepted the position of district representative of Western Maryland for Physical Education Public Information (PEPI). The main function of PEPI is to present "The new Physical Education" to the public.

During their stay, the three teachers exchanged ideas with other professionals interested in motor learning and development.

Fire Prevention Association Gives Rules For Coal, Wood Stove Users

This week's article, the final one in a series of four, on solid fuel heating equipment, concerns maintenance of the system and fire causes. The Republican has been cooperating with the state fire marshal's office in presenting information in weekly segments on the selection, installation, use and maintenance of coal and wood heating stoves.

Maintenance Of Systems

In order for a solid-fuel heating system to operate efficiently and safely, whether the heating source is a stove or a fireplace, the entire system must be properly maintained. This means that the stove or fireplace, chimney connectors and joints, and the chimney flue must be in proper working order and clean.

CREOSOTE—FORMATION AND REMOVAL

When wood is burned slowly, it produces acetic and pyrolic acids, which combine with expelled moisture to form creosote. The creosote vapors condense in the relatively cool chimney flue of a slow-burning fire. As a result, creosote residue accumulates on the flue lining and seeps into any mortar joints that are not tight and into any other exposed cracks. When ignited this creosote makes an extremely hot fire.

A Dirty Chimney

It is far better, of course, to prevent accumulations of creosote by maintaining a briskly burning fire with dry, well-seasoned wood in a stove or fireplace served by a properly designed chimney flue. If creosote does accumulate, however, it should be scraped off with a metal blade, such as a garden hoe with the blade goose-neck straightened out so that the blade is in the same plane with the flue lining. Creosote is difficult to remove, so care must be taken to prevent damage to the mortar.

FLUE INSPECTION

Each year before a stove or fireplace is put into service, the chimney flue should be thoroughly cleaned of soot and other residues. Then the flue should be inspected for any needed repairs and for any accumulations of creosote. However, if during the operation of a stove or fireplace some creosote accumulates in the flue and starts to burn, the fire department should be called immediately. Then while waiting for the arrival of fire fighters, the fire can usually be controlled and possibly extinguished by dumping a large quantity of coarse salt on the fire in the fireplace or in the fire chamber of a stove. In the case of a fireplace, a chimney flue fire can also be controlled and possibly extinguished by first extinguishing the fire in the fireplace and then holding a wet blanket or wet rug over the hearth opening to exclude the air from the chimney flue. If possible, avoid introducing water into the chimney itself, the water could damage the relatively brittle heated flue liner.

DISPOSAL OF ASHES

Ashes should be placed in a metal container with a tight fitting lid. The closed container of ashes should be placed on a noncombustible floor or on the ground, well away from all combustible materials, pending final disposal. If the ashes are disposed of by burial in soil or otherwise locally dispersed, they should be retained in the closed container until all cinders have thoroughly cooled.

Fire Causes

Materials that are more easily ignitable than wood because of their form and shape — such as loose paper, cardboard, most fabrics, and most fiberboard materials, etc. — must have greater clearances from a source of heat than the minimum clearances required for solid wood. Sources of heat include hot ashes, flying embers, sparks, flamm, hot coals, hot surfaces of stoves, chimney connectors, hot escaping gases from cracks in connectors, flues, etc., and similar hot objects. Combustible materials stored too close to a heat source are just as vulnerable as combustible materials subjected to a heat source that is installed too close to the material.

It is important, therefore, that stoves, connectors, chimneys, and similar equipment be installed only where adequate clearances can be maintained from all combustible materials. It is equally important, however, that combustible materials be stored well away from all sources of heat. And it is essential that all heating equipment be operated and maintained as intended by the manufacturer of the equipment. Over-firing means overheating. Smoldering fuel means accumulations of volatile residues. The use of flammable liquids for starting or rekindling a fire means flashovers. Deteriorated equipment means escaping hot gases. All of these conditions have resulted in fires, loss of lives, and injuries.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Pvt. Charles W. Rodeheaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude F. Rodeheaver, Sr., Corinth, recently completed training as a cannoner under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at Fort Sill, Okla.

OSUT is a 13-week period which combines basic combat training with advanced individual training.

Students learned the duties of a bivittor or gun section crewman and received instruction in handling ammunition, setting fuses and preparing charges, communications and maintenance.

Rodeheaver entered the Army in July of this year.

The private is a 1978 graduate of East Preston High School, Terra Alta.

Northern Rescue Members Certified CPR Instructors

Seven members of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad recently completed the Instructor's Course in CPR. The course was conducted at the Northern Squad Hall in Grantsville. Those completing the training were Marvin Beachy, Barry Beal, Jeffrey Fratz, Ken Hamilton, Kelly Hyson, Deborah Warnick and James Wilburn.

The Course Director was Louise Maust, R.N. Other CPR faculty were Shirley Brooks, BSN, James Arndt and George Shoenberger.

The new instructors join other area instructors in the task of training 20,000 residents in the lifesaving technique of CPR.

With funding provided by ARC, the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Chapter hopes to train at least one person in every home in the technique of CPR.

If performed properly, CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) can save the lives of many persons who would otherwise die, according to the Association. When a victim's heart stops beating, CPR can be initiated to keep the victim alive until advanced medical help arrives. If CPR is not initiated within 4-6 minutes after a victim's heart has ceased to function, the victim's chances of survival are very poor. Groups or individuals who wish to be trained in CPR should call or write the American Heart Association, 551 North Centre Street, P.O. Box 1114, Cumberland, Maryland 21502 (724-4011).

Mathias Seeking Tax Breaks For Families Of The Handicapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said Thursday he will ask the next session of Congress to provide federal tax breaks for families that bear undue financial burdens because of handicapped family members.

Mathias said he will introduce a bill to provide tax credits for "extraordinary child care expenses" resulting from retardation or other handicaps among children in the families.

A second Mathias measure would allow tax deductions for contributions to trusts established on behalf of adults with progressively disabling diseases.

He also said the federal government should provide aid to communities for fostering public awareness of the needs of handicapped people.

Mathias said disincentives to rehabilitation, such as a Social Security program that discourages handicapped people from working, must be eliminated.

Do Lutherans believe theirs is the only true Church?

Lutherans believe there is only one true church, the church of Jesus Christ. They believe that in God includes all who trust in Jesus Christ as God and Saviour. The Lutheran Church confesses (acknowledges) Jesus Christ as Lord and the Gospel as the revelation of God's sovereign will and saving grace in Jesus Christ. The church accepts the ancient creeds of Christendom - the Apostles', Nicene, Athanasian - as authentic declarations of Christian faith. The church believes the Unaltered Augsburg Confession and Luther's Small Catechism to be true witnesses to the Gospel. These statements are not partisan documents but statements of belief for all.

The Lutheran Church is ecumenical; it recognizes the world-wide community of Christians whose faith is in one Lord and Saviour.

We Lutherans in Garrett County rejoice to share in Christian ministry to our community in the spirit of cooperation with our fellow Christians who confess Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour. Such cooperation is a mark of the integrity of our ministry, inasmuch as it advances the Kingdom of Christ, and shares his love with the world about us.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

MML Expresses Position On Tax Limitation Proposal

The Maryland Municipal League (MML) has expressed its position on the tax limitation proposal in a statement released today.

The statement follows: "While the League is opposed to the concept of tax limitation as embodied in the proposed 'Proposition 13' type legislation, it recognizes that something must be done to reduce local government dependence on the property tax. The Municipal League also recognizes that the 'Proposition 13' type legislation is directed at reducing local government revenue."

"While all taxpayers want a tax reduction, the same is not true of all local governments. The League believes that a tax reduction which would result in a loss of revenue to local governments is not in the best interest of the state or the nation."

"MML also believes that placing a tax ceiling on an expenditure limitation is a double-edged sword. It is the wrong approach to providing effective government and tax relief. A constitutional restriction on public expenditures would make it difficult for the legislative body to respond to unforeseen economic or financial difficulties, such as a depression or a sharp decline in federal revenue passed through to state and local governments."

"The League's position paper states that placing tax ceilings or expenditure limitations in the State law is also the wrong approach to providing effective government and tax relief. Requiring a two-thirds or three-quarters vote of a legislative body to raise taxes from government revenue to maintain the rule and work counter to the principle of majority rule. The property tax is the major source of revenue upon which local government officials must rely to support services and operations. By limiting the property tax, local governments will be forced to raise other taxes, such as sales and income taxes, which will be passed on to the taxpayer. Local governments will become more dependent on the state and federal governments and hence will have less control over their own destiny."

"Another point made by the League in its position paper is that local government is efficient and effective. The key to effective local government is to have a strong, independent local government with a strong voice in the state and federal governments."

"MML's position paper further states that tax limitation does not reduce the tax burden on the taxpayer. It is a transfer of the tax burden from the property owner to the state and federal governments."

and local government from property or otherwise, will lead to an immediate increase in state and federal income taxes paid. For every $100 saved in local property taxes, approximately $15 to $20 will be transferred to the state and federal governments through increased income taxes.

"The Maryland Municipal League believes that placing limitations on local government taxes and expenditures degrades the representative form of government. The key to the problem is to assure more effective and efficient government, while not overburdening one segment of taxpayers. Citizens need to become more involved in the local government decision-making process rather than merely demanding services and then crying about the bill."

"Local government, especially municipal government, is Maryland's source of revenue and tax-paying authority. It is the only source of revenue that property taxes can be reduced."

"The Maryland Municipal League is a non-profit, non-partisan, independent organization representing 18 municipal governments throughout Maryland. The League works to strengthen the role and capacity of municipal government through a program of services including legislation, research and technical assistance. The League is headquartered in Annapolis."

Girl Scout Service Van Begins Route

Beginning November 1, the new service van will take adults in the Girl Scout program to the Girl Scout Service Van.

The van will take November 1 in LaVale and Millersville to serve the residents of Allegany, Garrett, and Mineral counties. This will be the first of regularly scheduled monthly routes for the mobile Girl Scout service van.

This intensive service, being launched by the Greater Girl Scout Council, which serves 16 counties in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, will provide a convenient means for troop leaders to obtain training materials, limited, food and other supplies in a timely fashion.

To provide this service, the Greater Council van was converted to a troop service van with the addition of storage cabinets. The van will be staffed by existing members who are familiar with the Girl Scout program and will also provide administrative assistance to the troop leaders when they visit the van.

In addition to the two stop areas, the van will stop each month in Hagerstown and Hagerstown, Md. and Hagerstown, Va. and Hagerstown, W. Va. As demand dictates additional stops will be scheduled.

Hershenberger Attends Insurance Seminar

Donald G. Hershenberger of York-Hershenberger Insurance, Spring, recently completed a three-day Personal Lines Insurance Seminar which was held in Carlisle, Pa. October 31-3.

The seminar was conducted by the National Society of Certified Insurance Consultants, Dallas, Texas, in conjunction with the Professional Insurance Agents Association of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware.

The seminar included over 18 hours of instruction by nationally known speakers in the insurance field, and an essay competition to conclude the seminar.

State Officials Believe Public Is Now More Aware Of Child Abuse

BALTIMORE (UPI) — State officials say they are not distraught at the rise in the number of reports of child abuse in Maryland this year because it means the public is more aware of the problem.

"Usually, the abuser is peripheral to the family — either a family member or a boyfriend. Putting someone in jail could destroy the family, and many times they don't know that much to start with," said a state official.

If a child is found abused, juvenile courts can remove him from the home immediately. After hospital care, the child can either be returned home or assigned to a foster home.

The state has an approved list of about 50 or 60 week homes, according to Decker, including some in Virginia.

"The main thing is, we don't want to get kids who are abused and put them into institutions where they get abused again," he said.

Tenagers cause the biggest headache for state officials, Decker pointed out.

Teenagers are the hardest to place, especially if they are girls who have been sexually abused, he said. "There's just nowhere for them to go."

Decker said the biggest single problem for state officials has been incest.

"In Baltimore County, they were so open with the number of cases of incest that they were forced to prosecute, even though they have a policy of not going for incarceration," he explained.

"But most of the time, they realize it's in some putting anyone in jail," he added. "Sometimes the only witness you have is the child himself, and he won't testify."

Solar Grant Program Enter Cycle II

The Maryland Energy Policy Office is accepting applications for 40 grants of $400 each to fund the installation of approved solar water heating systems. The program, financed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, is open to owners and builders/developers of single family housing units throughout the state. Solar water heating systems installed since April of 1977 are eligible for consideration.

This program was designed to encourage citizens with the feasibility of heating water by using solar collectors resulting in the conservation of our finite energy resources. A survey of 100 Marylanders indicates that the average system costs about $700 installed. Unfortunately no details are yet available on how the tax credits estimated in the recent federal energy bill.

To request an application and program information packet, please write the Maryland Energy Policy Office, Suite 1002, 300 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Md. 21201.

Local Student Sings With Hood Choir

Ms. Hordstody is a freshman at Hood, where she is currently a member of the choir.

Selected to sing from Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Hood currently offers 26 major areas of study, including concentrations in such career fields as political leadership, management, speech, education and institutional studies.

This is the year for comedy and National Lampoon's Animal House is undoubtedly the most talked about farce of the season.

The movie was directed by John Landis and written by a new triumvirate. To the comedy industry, Chris Miller, Harold Ramis and Douglas Kenney. All three writers hotly remembered their college days and no doubt incorporated their experience in the fictitious Delta fraternity.

Unlike Refellini who bemoans "seven years of college down the drain", Animal House graduates with high honors.

The Delta pledges and up-purcellation in Animal House are a revealing, riotous bunch led by Tim Matheson, Thomas Hulce and James Daughton. The show-stopper, though is "Saturday Night Live's" John Belushi who carns wildly through the show cracking one-liners, searching for topline roasts and boasting a 3.0 grade average.

Unlike Refellini who bemoans "seven years of college down the drain", Animal House graduates with high honors.

Before the new board of county commissioners settles into the office up on the hill, we believe a note of gratitude and appreciation should be extended to the outgoing board.

Before the new board of county commissioners started into the office up on the hill, we believe a note of gratitude and appreciation should be extended to the outgoing board.

Wayne Hamilton, George Edwards and Don Bender have expressed great skill and expertise in carrying out their respective duties. We believe that the people of Garret County were their prime interest throughout their four years on the board. Few people in this county realize how many tough, long hours these men have put in. They have been a credit to the atmosphere of respect to that office and to our county from all over the state, unlike ever before. It is truly unfortunate and a great loss to the county that there was such a huge void in this campaign, a building which will no doubt prove to be a functional and valuable asset within just a few years.

When taking on a new job, the new commissioners have quite a lot to learn. There are going to be many rude awakenings along the way. They will find out that many campaign promises are not realistic. They will find out that there are many public critics, even when they seemingly and rationally make the correct decision.

We believe that the law should be changed to allow for a longer term of office. The people of Garret County matter how competent the newly elected commissioners are, several weeks, months, perhaps even a year will be all that is needed, simply because all three have been in office for so long from the time they were first left in office to help guide the way and instruct them on the extremely complicated task which lies ahead.

Good luck, Ernie, Truman and Len.

A special evening clinic for Adult Screening performed by Public Health Nurses is being planned for November 16, from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m., at the Health Department in Oakland located

The Medical Building upon the Garrett County Memorial Hospital campus. The building is the site of the new clinic and no appointment will be necessary.

The Garrett County Health Department offers a variety of Health Services as a means to detect early symptoms in an effort to prevent disease and disability in the community. This includes all persons eighteen years of age and over. The services include: physical examinations, blood pressure readings, cholesterol and uric acid content in urine test for protein and sugar, tuberculin test, Gonorrhea (STD) test and syphilis test. The estimated examination and stool test for cervical cancer.

Glaucoma testing is important for persons thirty-five years of age and older. Glaucoma is a disease of the eye that can cause blindness. Early detection and treatment are important and may result in hardening of the eyeball. Glaucoma is a disease of the optic nerve and can be controlled with medication.

During the night of October 28, someone damaged two mailboxes on Trap Run Road, near the intersection of State Route 28. The mailboxes belonged to Evelyn Uphoff and Ray Vangness. The damage was estimated at $30 each.

Two juveniles were apprehended following a destruction of property report filed in the Street, Grantsville, November 1. The youth apparently shot a hole in the rear window of a 1974 Buick Wildcat, causing an estimated $28 damage.

Everett W. Stone, Frothingham, was arrested on October 28, 29 and 30, 1981. He was in a car had addressed his summer home on Jackson Grade Road, Grantsville, and was charged with the destruction of the shingles and a stolen door.

Two summer homes near Grantsville were damaged during the past several weeks. Gerald Burke, Springfield, Va., was notified that his home had been broken into and ransacked. The damage was estimated at $1000 and he was not insured.

Quick police work resulted in the arrest of three Baltimore men Monday, just forty minutes after the first armed bank robbery in the county's remembered history.

According to the police reports, two men wearing ski masks and armed with a pistol and a sawed-off shotgun, robbed the Garrett National Bank about 10 a.m. Monday, and demanded cash. Early reports said the men had taken away with $13,300.91 to where a third man was waiting in a car nearby, and the three fled the scene.

Several witnesses to the robbery, including the Red-Ford Lincoln, gave police descriptions of the men. One 1971 Mercury Cougar thought used in the getaway. Three young men were arrested here on Monday, and taken to the Route 48 and Voke Road interchange at LaVale by the LaVale police, and taken to the LaVale barracks.

Leonard Dobbs, 27, All have been charged with armed robbery, carrying a dangerous weapon, grand larceny, carrying a concealed weapon, and possession of a dangerous weapon. He is confined because the men pointed the gun at the teller.

He had been sent at $30,000 to the County Jail, County district Court Judge Miller Powers, but that amount was not paid. He was held in the County Jail, but not such by federal officials in Hagerstown.

Assisting the state police were the officers of the Garrett County Sheriff's department, and the state police crime lab. State police indicated that the men were in the neighborhood, and that Dobbs is also wanted in connection with other charges in another county.

The extended period of dry weather the past week caused the fields and wooded areas throughout the county to be extremely susceptible to fire. As in evidence of the fact, area firefighters were kept busy until dawn brushing fire up onto hillsides. A passerby had noticed the smoke and called Deep Creek.

At 4:02 Oakland Firemen responded to a brush fire on the south side of the road. Before firemen could reach their boots off, the fire whistled down the hillside. The fire was in South Third Street. The brush was cancelled when it was found to be a small fire. There were no injuries. The brush was controlled burning on the Buzz Utility Property.

On Friday, firefighters responded to an assist call in Alameda county by fire house #1.

On November 3, at 9:31 p.m., Oakland responded to a small brush fire on the south side of Birch Road and burned two brush piles to a storage building. The owner cancelled it to catch a fire, but the brush pile was still in about ten minutes. The owner of the building is Paul Jackson.

The fire started on a rainy day, beginning at 7:04 p.m. when Oakland was called to a brush fire on the Railroad bridge near town. The fire had been controlled by the forestry department by the time they arrived.

At 3:47 p.m. Deep Creek responded to a brush fire on the south side of the intersection of Glendale Road. Forestry department personnel also responded.

Deep Creek's company was called out at 7:10 p.m. to respond to a brush fire on grass fire off Glendale Road on the O'Brien property along Mendocino Highway.

Bloomington P.T.A. Has Monthly Meeting

Gary Galloway, principal of the Bloomington Elementary School, was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Bloomington Parent-Teachers' Association held October 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Galloway described the family living curriculum program, which has been proposed by the county and will involve students in grades six, seven and eight. He stated that if the class is approved, students will need a parent permission slip to take the course.

He also explained the new program in effect this year for gifted and talented children as well as pointing out that the 3 H's are being emphasized in all the classrooms.

Mr. Galloway stated that the Youth Keeper Program and early identification forms for new and kindergarten students will be used again this year.

In the regular business meeting, Marion Harvey, treasurer, reported that Mr. Galloway received the customary $25.00 given each year to a full-time teacher.

Mrs. Board announced ice cream sales would end effective November 1 at the Bloomington School in accordance with county policy. Ice cream will be served one day a week with the regular noon meal, she said.

In the committee reports, membership chairman, Jane Hamd, reported Mr. Athey's report won the P.T.A. membership contest this year, and Becky Shook reported that the P.T.A. committee is selecting books and looking through more catalogs.

Other business included the decision to sponsor the Bloomington Brownie troop by providing a facility for their meetings, the appointment of Shirley Maynard and Patty Smith as co-chairpersons for the Christmas dinner; the appointment of Marion Harvey to chair a refreshment committee for Parent Conference Day; and the announcement that the P.T.A. is collecting Campbell soup labels this year and will place a container for the labels in the school.

The next meeting was scheduled for Friday, November 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Enrollment In Maryland Colleges Slightly Decreased

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Total enrollment in Maryland's universities and colleges dropped 1 percent this fall, the first decline since 1965, state education officials said.

The number of full-time students decreased an unexpected 4.1 percent, puzzling educators who had not anticipated a significant decline until the early 1980's.

The enrollment situation is not good, and there's no reason it should have dropped this year, at least that we can tell as far as," said Sheldon H. Koor, commissioner of higher education.

He said the decline may mean some schools will need to seek deficiency appropriations to balance their budgets.

The state Board of Higher Education reported that 215,459 students were enrolled at state and private institutions.

There were an almost equal number of full and part-time students, as the full-time registration dipped 4.1 percent, to 107,759 and the census of part-time students rose 2.3 percent to 107,700.

The total decline in state-supported institutions was 2.7 percent.

That means a decline in state funds for each school, which receives $800 per full-time student and a pro-rata share for part-timers.

Koor said bureaucratic foul-ups that delayed federal grants for thousands of students hurt enrollment, as did a state-mandated cutback of freshmen at the University of Maryland's College Park campus.

REVIVAL SPEAKER — Evangelist Dallas Plummer, of Virginia Beach, Va., will lead revival services at the Sand Flat Assembly of God each evening at 7:30 p.m., from November 12-19. The church is located on U. S. Rt. 219, five miles north of Oakland. There will also be special music nightly. Rev. Alvin Kyle, pastor, invites the public to these services.
